ONE MONTH'S A. & M. COLLEGE PAY ROLL

On This Basis Year's Pay Roll Runs Over $500,000.00. President's Salary Above What Law Directs. Other Salaries in Detail. Total Investment There Perhaps $4,000,000. Cost Parents' About $500 Year Besides.

CUNNINGHAM WILL VOTE TO CUT EXPENSES

Makes Statement To District 5 Voters In Which He States Unequivocally His Ideas. Will Vote Against All Donations and Is Opposed to Any Loan Warrants. Cut Attorney's Salary and Home Economics Agent's Salary. Believes in the Consolidated School and Roads to Get to It.

Editor Sentinel:

Permit me to say to the voters of district 5, through your columns just a few more words in regard to the duties and the obligations of the office of supervisor.

In this country of ours we are supposed to elect men to office who represent the will and the wishes of the people. I therefore want to add to what I have heretofore stated, that I realize that one of the crying demands of the hour throughout the State as well as in Grenada County is lower taxes and the spending of less money by public officials. I want to say that if reelected, I shall do my best to act on this idea. I am not so foolish as to take the position that I have not made mistakes, but they were honest mistakes, and, if again made your supervisor, I shall profit by those mistakes.

I have voted for some allowances that I shall not vote for again, if elected. I read with some interest the card of Mr. E. L. Boteler, as published in The Sentinel of last week, and I want to say that if he gets on the board and if I am again a member of that body, that I shall join hands with him on several matters which he says he favors.

Personally, I favor a farm demonstrator for the County; I believe that farm conditions are such that one who will do real farm service is needed, but if convinced that anything like a representative number of my constituents are opposed to having one, I shall not vote for one, if made your supervisor, unless the people have an opportunity to vote on the matter.

I perhaps made a mistake in voting very recently to increase the salary of the home economics agent. It is not always easy to do just what you want or to get just what you want when one is a member of a body where many matters are to be passed on. I agree that the home economics agent is paid too much and shall so vote if I again have the opportunity.

I think the Legislature did a good thing in passing the law requiring the counties to make up and publish a budget. That budget requires that boards of supervisors not spend beyond what the budget calls for, and if made your supervisor, I shall do my best to adhere to this in letter and in spirit, and I shall not by subterfuge or otherwise vote to spend beyond what we have money to pay for. We have issued loan warrants between tax collecting times too frequently during the past few years; I am opposed to further loan warrants.

Everybody knows that in both our County and the State, we cannot avoid taking care of the debts already contracted, but we can avoid more debts of like character and that I am in favor of doing.

Of course the best thought of our beat is for taking care of our Consolidated School, and with the school we need to have our roads in such condition as that the pupils may be carried back and forth to the school.

There seems to be a demand to reduce the salary of the County Attorney to $25 per month. If made your supervisor again, I shall so vote and I believe I can say for the present attorney that he would uncomplainingly agree that that is best and right.

If again made your supervisor, I shall vote for nothing that might be termed a donation or gift that is not required by law.

A wise economy shall be my standard. The very best service for our district and for the County is what I shall strive for, if again made

In keeping with the policy of The Sentinel to try to keep its readers posted on general conditions and especially those conditions which touch so intimately the pockets of the taxpayers and that are inseparably connected with the matter of taxes and public expenditures just at this time, there appears the following official payroll of the Mississippi A. & M. College as of February 28.

The reader will note that there are a number of different funds and that in a number of cases, the same person is paid amounts out of several funds.

This is the pay roll for one month in detail. It cannot be definitely stated in all cases what work each person is doing, or in what department he is engaged.

The reader can judge for himself whether he thinks anyone is overpaid. It will be seen that Dr. D. C. Hull is paid $400 per month out of the "Support Fund" and that he is paid $50 per month out of Farmer's Institute fund and $50 out of Sales fund, a total of $500 per month or $6000 per year. There is a proviso in "House Bill No. 367", as shown in the Laws of Mississippi, 1922, making an appropriation for the support of the A. & M. College for the years 1922 and 1923, that the said funds are available, "Provided that the salary of the head of the institution shall not exceed $4800.00 per annum."

It is presumed that the board of trustees will justify the payment of $6,000.00 upon the grounds that only $4800.00 of the salary comes out of money provided immediately by the State.

At an institution where one of the main lessons young men should learn is obedience to law, it looks a bit inconsistent that the trustees and any others in authority should act absolutely in defiance of a plain legislative mandate.

It may not be known by the taxpaying public that the president of the A. & M. College, as well as the presidents or heads of the other State institutions, are provided a home and that the home is furnished largely at public expense. It may also be a matter of general interest to state that these college heads are provided traveling expense money.

The secretary and treasurer of the A. & M. College is paid $275.00 per month out of the "Support Fund"; $50.00 per month out of Federal Smith-Lever fund and $50.00 per month out of State Experimental, Accounting, making in all $4500.00 per year. When Mr. W. J. Jennings, Sr., of this County, filled the same position at the A. & M. College, he was paid $2400 per year.

The secretary, as well as a large number of the heads of the different departments, is furnished his residence free. The Sentinel would not be understood as holding that $3500 or even $4000 is too much to pay a man who has spent years in college training, and who is otherwise qualified, for service as the head of a college department. And it does appear that trustees should take all these things into consideration in fixing all employees' salaries.

The secretary-treasurer is a very competent man and well qualified for his duties but it does not look fair that new man should be placed in a clerical job where only medium educational qualifications are required and be paid more than the head of the chemical department and others who have spent many years in equipping themselves for college

THE MEETING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Harrell Doing Some Very Able, Convincing and Persuasive Preaching. Sermons Show Ability and Zeal for the Master's Cause. Closes Sunday Night. Good Results.

The revival services at the First Baptist church are still in progress and will continue until Sunday night, next anyway. There has been much unfavorable weather, yet the congregations have been good, the attention splendid and the interest growing each day.

The minister, Rev. F. J. Harrell, has shown himself to be a strong and vigorous man in the pulpit. He takes a text and bases his sermon on the text. He discusses the Scriptures as one who has informed himself and as one who believes sincerely and truly in what he is preaching. He is a good reasoner. He makes a strong and convincing plea to the thinking faculties. He takes the truths of the gospel and endeavors to get men and women to mirror their own lives by them. There is nothing of the sensational about his preaching. It is a plain, earnest and convincing presentation of the things of Christ and man's duty to God. A loving, kind and sympathetic Savior is held up to men and women and they are urged to turn their faces toward Him and to accept Him just as He is and just as they are.

While there have been but few to make a profession of religion, there has been a wonderful warming of the religious spirit and a renewed determination upon the part of those who claim to be children of God to live closer to Him. There has been an awakening to what the Scripture means when it says, "woe to him who is at ease in Zion."

The meeting has not only reached the congregation of the First Baptist church but the whole town. Like the pebble cast into the waters of the ocean, the waves recede and go on and on, so with the whatever is good as well as what is bad in the world, it goes on and on until the other shore is touched. There has been a wonderful uplift in Grenada because of these services.

The songs by Prof. Carnett have seemed to be in tune with the music of the Eternal City. Much of it has been almost a sermon in itself. There is hardly anything that will arouse men more quickly than a deeply spiritual song sang in a spiritual way.

Grenada always rejoices in good preaching. Grenada always rejoices in real revival of Christ-thinking, and there is but one sentiment among those who have had the opportunity to hear Mr. Harrell and that is that his discourses are touched with the very sweetness and beauty of God's eternal love.

COMMISSIONER BOONE HEARS ROAD PROTEST

Citizens in Vicinity of Williamsburg and in Calhoun County Protest Against Road Survey Crossing River at Graysport. Mr. Boone Thinks Attempt To Change Now Useless.

It seems that the same old spirit about where road lines should be run still obsesses many people and that the road authorities of Mississippi often find it more difficult to satisfy all parties near whose home any road line is to be run.

As an instant case, the road from Grenada eastward to the Calhoun County line north of the Yalobusha river it is stated has been approved by the State Highway department and approved also by the federal engineer. This proposed road is surveyed to cross the Yalobusha river a short distance east of Graysport, but it seems that there are some Calhoun County citizens who do not want the road to cross the Yalobusha river at all in Grenada County, but to run south of the river and thence in the vicinity of Sabougla, Calhoun County. In this these gentlemen are supported by many good citizens and large taxpayers who live south of Graysport in the vicinity of Williams-vile.

A meeting was called for Tuesday, by those wanting another route, at Grenada at which State Highway Commissioner, Hon. W. A. Boone, was present. Mr. Boone called the meeting to order and went over the road matter and gave the status of the matter as to approval. Several talks were made but there was fine spirit with all of it. It was manifest that nobody wanted to do anything that would delay the road. Hon. Oscar Lawrence of Calhoun City appeared for those wanting the new survey and stated that these men had raised the money by private subscription to pay for the survey.

It was developed that the board of supervisors of Grenada County, acting under instructions from the State Highway Department, had advertised for bids to be let at the next meeting of that body after the final approval of the plans to construct the east and west highway entirely through Grenada County.

After the meeting adjourned Mr. Boone made the following statement to a representative of The Sentinel, relative to any further surveying.

"The survey heretofore made provides for crossing the Yalobusha river a few miles east of Graysport. That survey has been approved by the State Highway Engineer and the State Highway Department. It has also been approved by the engineer for the federal government and has been forwarded to the proper highway federal authorities for final approval.

SULLENS MAKES MASTERLY AND TOUCHING ADDRESS

Noted Editor Daily News Talks on Soul Winning to Laymen of Presbyterian Church at Luncheon. Pleads With Men To Talk To Others About Christ. Many Illustrations That Make Plain the Lesson.

As announced in these columns last week, Capt. Frederick Sullens, the noted Editor of the Jackson Daily News, came to Grenada on Friday afternoon of last week to address the laymen of the Presbyterian church at a luncheon. It was sort of business meet. Had the revival at the First Baptist church not been in progress, the ever thoughtful and popular pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. R. Cunningham, would no doubt have made the service a general one and extended invitation to everybody.

Besides Presbyterians, Dr. J. R. Countess and Messrs. J. T. Thomas and O. F. Lawrence, from other churches, sat at the speaker's table.

The welcome was extended by Rev. J. R. Cunningham in a most felicitous and effective manner. Mr. Cunningham stated in a few words the object of the luncheon was that the laymen of the church might think together and thereby develop even a better working spirit than already existed. He expressed great delight in having Capt. Sullens present and stated that he regretted exceedingly that conditions were such that the meeting could not be thrown open to the whole town.

Mr. C. H. Calhoun acted as toast master and showed himself to be clever indeed in this most important function.

Mr. W. F. Martin was listed to respond to the first toast, "reaching out", but was unavoidably absent, and Mr. N. J. Carothers was called upon as Mr. Martin's substitute.

Mr. Carothers stated that he was wholly unprepared, yet he acquitted himself very creditably.

Mr. A. M. Carothers responded to "big dividends". He handled the subject in a manner to appeal to the reasoning faculties and calculating mind of his hearers. He said that when men were presented with a business proposition that they very properly inquired "What are the expected returns? Tell me something about dividends." He stated that the religion of Christ not only gave dividends that were most satisfying and reassuring as to this world but best of all, it gave a check on eternal happiness hereafter. He stated that the stories of the millions who had sinned and trampled upon God's laws, who had spurned a Savior's love, showed that there was no real and abiding joy outside of Christ. He cited the beautiful lives of many millions more who gave unmistakable proof of what it meant to live in the sunlight of God's love.

Mr. W. D. Salmon responded to "full steam ahead". Mr. Salmon treated his subject as a business man usually treats a proposition. He said that the way to get the steam to go ahead was to build the fire and to get the water to make the steam. He said that the church like all other moving things, needed to be constantly recruiting its steam-making power. He pledged himself to the earnest cooperation with the church.

Mr. T. E. Moody responded to "facts is facts". Mr. Moody is the very efficient treasurer of the Presbyterian church. There are no frills about Ed Moody. He is one of Grenada's sincerest and best men and most useful and worthy citizens. He gave a few concrete remarks about the business of the church and how he thought the matter of finances might be improved upon.

The guest of honor, Capt. Sullens, was then presented.

Before beginning his address, Mr. Sullens asked his hearers to stand while he prayed, and it is a rare thing indeed that one hears a more eloquent prayer, without making any pretensions to eloquence. It seemed that he could almost be seen falling before the Throne of Mercy, and talking to God. He used this striking statement in his prayer: "My Savior whose first company was the cattle and whose last was thieves; whose first resting place was in a manger, whose last was in a borrowed tomb."

Mr. Sullens' subject was "Soul winning". He referred in a few brief sentences to his conversion now about

WANTS TO KNOW WHO MADE ROAD SURVEY

Asks Who is Responsible For Road Crossing River East of Graysport Into Beat 3. Asks Where Money Is To Come From.

Editor Sentinel,

Was present at road conference held here Tuesday which had to do with whether or not the highway should cross the river just east of Graysport and run over into district 3, or whether the road should run via Williamsburg.

As a citizen and as a taxpayer of Grenada County, I would just like to know who was the moving spirit that suggested that the road cross the river east of Graysport? I would like to know by what line of reasoning one can justify the spending of $85,000.00—for that as I understand is what the estimate says it will cost to run the road across the river, build the dump and the bridges—when Grenada County has only about three miles of road to finish if the road runs via Williamsburg? Were our road friends and authorities considering the taxpayers when this line was named to run across the river into beat 3?

Another thing I would like to know is where does the board of supervisors expect to get the money to construct the road as it has been laid out, that is, to cross the river into beat 3? Is the money hid away somewhere? Are we to be led up to a certain point and then told that we have to issue more bonds?

I feel that there are many others in the County who feel just as I do and who would like to have these questions answered.

As I understand, a large majority of the citizens in that end of beat 2 are asking that the road run via Williamsburg. It is evident that many large taxpayers in Calhoun County want the road to run via Williamsburg. Suppose we build the road to the Calhoun County line in beat 3 and Calhoun County refuses to join us there, then what?

Very respectfully,

E. A. PENN.
Grenada, Miss., March 21, 1923.

ten months ago, and how he went to the Gypsy Smith meeting somewhat out of curiosity but more to study human nature as the basis for a story of the Daily News. He said that he had been a church member for about twenty years, and that he joined, he reckoned, like too many others do, because it was respectable to be a church member. At the Gypsy Smith meeting, he was converted, he stated.

He said that it was no easy job—and he made, he said, the statement reverently—for the Lord to convert an editor. He said that an editor came in contact with the hypocrisy the subtleness and the selfishness and the unappreciation of the world in such a way as to make him in one sense a pessimist and rather cynical. He said that the average editor knew no much about the happenings of his community, many things that would turn communities wrong side out, that it seemed that oftentimes that the editor whose heart had not already been touched with the hand and the life of a loving and tender Savior, was hard to reach. Such an unconverted editor occupied a sort of half-way ground which enables him to see the throng as it goes by.

A few nights after his conversion he stated, he was asked by a Baptist minister who serves a church in the manufacturing district of Jackson, to hold the prayer meeting for him. At first, he said, he told the minister that he just could not hold the service, then, he said, he thought of his promise, to "Go where you want me to go and say what you want me to say," so he told the minister that he would go. He talked he said as best he could, and the minister, who was sitting just behind him, whispered to him not to close the service without extending an invitation, which he did and he stated that twelve came forward and gave their hearts to God.

For The Ladies Only

Tuesday, March 27th we will have with us Mrs. Brunson from the Gossard Corset Factory. Mrs. Brunson will be here on that day in order to demonstrate to the ladies of Grenada and territory the corset that is best suited for their particular figure.

The service is free and we invite every lady in this vicinity to visit our ready-to-wear department on that day. Mrs. Brunson is a corsetiere of long experience. She will be glad to measure and fit you in the Gossard that is best suited to your particular figure.

Just one day, Tues., March 27th

LESSON FOR MARCH 25

REVIEW

JESUS THE WORLD'S SAVIOR

GOLDEN TEXT—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—I Timothy 1:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Story of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Favorite Lessons of the Quarter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—Luke's Picture of Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—Lessons From Luke's Gospel.

The method of review must be determined by the grade of the class, by the test of the teachers and by the nature of the studies of the quarter. Three methods are suggested:

(1) Centering in the Topic—Jesus the World's Savior. This method is suggested by Doctor Crannell.

1. The World's Liberator.

1. From Diseases. Lessons 1, 5.

2. From "Legalism." Lesson 1.

3. From Pride. Lessons 2, 6.

4. From Selfishness. Lessons 2, 5.

5. From Prejudice. Lesson 7.

6. From the Sinful Past. Lesson 7.

II. The World's Teacher.

1. About Sin and Salvation. Lesson 3.

2. About Human Duty:

(a) To Others. Lessons 2, 4.

(b) To God. Lessons 5, 8, 9.

(c) To State. Lesson 9.

(d) With Money. Lessons 4, 8, 9.

3. About Prayer. Lesson 6.

III. The World's Sacrifice.

1. Sacrifice Faced, Accepted. Lesson 10.

2. Sacrifice Rendered. Lesson 11.

(2) Modern Applications of the Lessons. This scheme calls for reports by members of the class to whom assignments were previously made. This is taken from Felouhet's Notes.

Lesson 1. "What should we keep of the old-time Sabbath?"

Lesson 11. "Why is it hard to be humble today?"

Lesson III. "Are our churches really open to the prodigals?"

Lesson IV. "What should our rich men do for our Lazaruses?"

Lesson V. "Men and women who deserve much gratitude and receive little."

Lesson VI. "What may we reasonably expect from prayer?"

Lesson VII. "Why is it hard for a modern business man to be a Christian?"

Lesson VIII. "How the church should utilize its average members."

Lesson IX. "How can we get our church members to give as much as they should?"

Lesson X. "Things that Christians do not grieve enough over."

Lesson XI. "How the message of the cross might be brought to all men in a generation."

(3) The Central Teaching of the Lessons:

Lesson I. There is no malady of man connected with soul or body which Jesus cannot heal.

Lesson II. Unselfishness will move one to humbly take the lowest place in life, esteeming others better than himself.

Lesson III. God is longing and waiting to welcome to His bosom the vilest sinner who comes with contrition of heart.

Lesson IV. The one who lives only for this life shall surely suffer agony and torment in the life to come.

Lesson V. Ingratitude is common to the natural heart. The Lord expects those who experience His salvation to give Him their love.

Lesson VI. Those who pray to God in the right spirit shall surely get the blessings sought.

Lesson VII. The supreme purpose of the coming of Jesus Christ to the earth, taking upon Himself our humanity, and dying on the cross was to save lost men.

Lesson VIII. Upon those who have not been faithful in the use of gifts the Lord shall execute judgment at His coming.

Lesson IX. We are responsible to God, but God measures our gifts by the extent of our ability.

Lesson X. Bitter agony was suffered by Christ when He bore our sins.

Lesson XI. In Christ's death a full price was paid for our sins.

What God Remembers.

"I," says God, "will remember." How sweet to think of what God will, and what He will not, remember! He will remember his own covenant, but He will not remember His people's sins. The cross, which ratifies the former, puts away the latter.—C. H. McIntosh.

God's Offer.

Back of our ignorance and uncertainty God stands with His offer of wisdom and guidance to all who will ask it.

No True Picture.

There is no truer picture of what history reveals than a crucifix.—Rev. G. A. Studdert Kennedy.

The Lie.

Sin has many tools, but a lie is the handle that fits them all.—O. W. Holmes.

SULLENS MAKES MASTERLY AND TOUCHING ADDRESS

He said that the laymen of the church must get on the job. He stated that he feared that too many laymen were doing about what he did before his conversion. In order to emphasize this point, he used this illustration: "Your boys here went to the World War. You know how you went with them to the train when they left and how you prayed for their return. You know how you watched the newspapers and how you scanned the casualty lists to see if your boy or your friend's boy was among the fallen. But how would you have felt, if the news had come to you that when the Grenada boys reached the firing line, and the order given to go over the top, they had had refused and stated that 'that was Gen. Pershing's job.' If Pershing could not do all the fighting, neither can the ministers. And the laymen can no more get a valid excuse for not trying to save souls than the soldiers could get for refusing to go forward."

Mr. Sullens made a plea for an everyday religion. He said that one rarely heard the name of Jesus mentioned on the streets except in blasphemy. He said that it was a duty that men would be called to account for failing to perform if they failed to warn others about what their lives were leading to. He said if one saw a blind person walking toward the edge of a precipice and failed to warn him or snatch him back, that the one looking on would be just as guilty of the blind man's death as if he had stabbed him with a knife.

He said that the doctor who discovered a remedy that was a sure cure for consumption and failed to tell other doctors was worse than criminal. Therefore he urged that the men be awake to the things of Christ and that the tell others about what God has done for them—that is if they let Him do anything and if they are living as church members who have been born again should live.

As another example of being in touch with God, as another example of fervid, earnest prayer, Mr. Sullens used this illustration: He said that a father had a son that had to be operated on at the hospital. He went with the little fellow to the hospital. He was with him in the room when he was being made ready for the operating table; that when the child was placed on the table and they started to roll him to the operating room, how the father followed along; that when the operating room was reached and the child's face was covered and the nurse began to administer the ether, how the little fellow would take the father by the hand and say, "Papa, stay with me" and that then the father began to talk to God to guide the doctors in using the knife and begging that his child might be spared. Oh, he said, "that was an agonizing time to the father", but it was one in which he was close to God and had God close to him. Mr. Sullens asked why, "if one could have such fellowship and such sweet communion with God for one hour or for one day, how much better it would be if, that same spirit of heart and mind prevailed for 365 days in the year."

He begged that people not wait until death invades the home and takes a loved one to think about the need of God and a Savior. He said that while he knew that people at times rather protested or rebelled against recounting death-bed scenes, yet he said that were stern realities, and every home must experience them. He pointed to the scene of a loved one's dying, of the body being made ready for burial, of the casket being rolled down the church aisle and in front of the pulpit and of the comforting words of the man of God; then he followed the bier to the cemetery and there watched the body as it was lowered to its final resting place. He told of them going back to the home with a broken heart and of the yearning for the vanished hand and for the voice that was still. Nothing, Mr. Sullens said, could soothe the disconsolate, nothing could administer to the bleeding heart at that time like Jesus.

The beauty and grandeur of Nature as it speaks forth the love and beneficence of God in the flowers, in the sunshine, in the twinkling stars and in the rippling waters was used to remind people of God's plans and of his great care in making life in this world joyous for those who will see Him in all good things.

Mr. Countiss stated that in his opinion that God suffered even more than his Son over the crucifixion. He cited the suffering of an Italian father in the delta whose son was carried to a hospital and had to undergo an operation. He stated that the father followed the son and the doctors to the door of the operating room but was not allowed to enter. Yet he sat at the door with his ear to the key hole, and Mr. Countiss stated that this old father suffered even more than the son who was on the operating table.

All present acclaimed that Capt. Sullens had made a masterly and a most persuasive plea for more of Christ in all things.

His hearers were deeply moved by his address and there were a number of times that the tears could be seen in eyes manifesting an unspeakable sympathy with what the speaker said.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the church. The menu was elaborate and delightful. It was most graciously served.

The music was furnished by Miss Mary Thomas at the piano and Miss Waneta Kleiser on the violin. Mrs. May Wood Smith and Mrs. W. A. Campbell each sang several selections. The music served to add to the melody and joy of the occasion.

MISSIONARY SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

The service at the Methodist church Sunday morning reflected most creditably to the young ladies of Grenada College who took part in it.

The characters were Miss Virginia Thomas, the modern girl.

Miss Edna Locke, Conscience. Miss Gladys Burdine, Korea. Miss Inez Love, Japan.

Miss Irene Clegg, India. Miss Eva Mae Brownlee, Africa. Miss Ernestine Barnes, Brazil. Miss Elizabeth Green, Mexico.

It was presented as a pageant. It was a missionary call, "Here Am I, Send Me", written by Miss Louise Wingate of Grenada College. Miss Wingate was the accompanist. Miss Martha DuBerry, violinist and Misses Lucile Beavers and Sarah Belle Shipman, vocalists.

The service was a most telling plea for the missionary spirit and was a service most highly commendable in the young ladies.

Preceding the pageant, Dr. Countiss, president of the College, made a most impressive and forceful talk that dealt with the meaning of life and the sacrifice of the Savior and what the crucifixion meant to both the Father and the Son. It was a beautiful discussion of God's love and the Savior's purpose to reconcile the Father to the world. The search for the lost coin and the lost sheep were used to teach that God meant for his children here to look after the wayward; to be vitally concerned about those who strayed away or refused to hear the call of Jesus.

Mrs. Russell is teaching under the auspices of the Assembly's Training School at Richmond, Virginia. She is a teacher of national reputation and is so much in demand that she has to be engaged months in advance. The Grenada Auxiliary is fortunate in having secured her.

This opportunity is used to extend a most cordial and earnest invitation to the members of the other churches, and to all the people in the town and county, who are interested in the Bible, to attend this course—afternoon and evening as per program below.

Mrs. Russell's evening messages on "The Methods of Personal Work" should be of vital interest to the laymen as well as the women. All will be welcomed to this feast, provided by the Woman's Auxiliary.

The program is as follows:

Afternoon classes, 3:30-4:30: Sunday, The Word of God, "The Person and the Work of Christ"; Monday, The character of Christ; Tuesday, The Names of Christ; Wednesday, The Crowns of Christ; Thursday, The Kingdom of Christ.

Evening Classes, 7:30-8:30: Sunday, The Holy Land and The Word of God, "Methods of Personal Work"; Monday, The Qualifications of the Worker; Tuesday, Advantages of Personal Work; Wednesday, The Instrument and Agent in Personal Work; Thursday, From Fishermen to Fishers of Men.

BIBLE STUDY COURSE

Below is listed the subjects for the Bible study which is to begin in the Presbyterian Church March 25th and continue through the 29th. This course is led by Mrs. Margaret T. Russell, of Mobile, Alabama.

HAD SUFFERED OVER A YEAR

Mrs. Wilson Declared Her Health Has Been Entirely Restored By Wonderful Treatment.

"Stella Vitae was a godsend to me for after suffering for more than a year, during which I was on the verge of a breakdown, I am now well and strong," said Mrs. B. L. Wilson, Route 2, Jacksboro, Tenn.

"For a year or more I was all rundown, weak and in a miserable condition that almost laid me low. My back hurt me awfully and it was all I could do to stoop and pick up anything on the floor without its nearly killing me. Then there was a terrible misery in my left side that hurt just like somebody sticking a sharp knife in me.

"All this got on my nerves so it nearly broke me down. I would get excited over nothing and any kind of sudden noise would shock me so I would almost scream out in fright.

"I heard so much about Stella Vitae helping other women that I made up my mind to try it and after taking only one bottle I had improved so much everyone was surprised. I kept it up till I had taken several bottles more and I am now in perfect health with nothing to bother me at all."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn.—adv

MRS. MORRISON WITHDRAWS

Friends of Grenada County: To be your Supt. of Education, to give to my own people whatever of talent I have, has been my ambition; however, since an opposing candidate has entered the race I feel it is best to withdraw, as I do not care to have you drawn into a political fight for me.

My warmest thanks are yours—for what you have done; and I trust that he, whomsoever you may elect may do all and more than I could have done for you.

Appreciatively yours,
MRS. S. A. MORRISON.
Moss Point, Miss., March 9th, 1923.

V. R. JAMES ASKS A REELECTION

Mr. V. R. James authorizes his announcement for reelection to the office of circuit clerk, a place to which he was elected upon the resignation of W. B. Barnes sometime last year.

As is well known in Grenada Mr. James served the County for a number of years as Superintendent of Education, and when he retired from that office, he moved to the country and opened a country store at Kincaid and kept the post office there until it was abolished.

When Mr. D. W. Beck was made sheriff, he offered Mr. James the place of office deputy, a position he accepted and one which he filled with satisfaction to the public until Mr. Beck's death, and some other person was named as his successor.

He has met acceptably the duties of the office of circuit clerk, and should be more familiar with the demands of the office and therefore better able to render good service than when he first entered upon his duties.

Mr. James was born and reared in district 2. He has a large connection there. He comes of a family who has enjoyed the confidence and the esteem of the good people of Grenada County for these years. He comes of a family which has written its name indelibly upon the life and the affairs of the County. He is by nature kind, considerate and obliging and if again honored with the office of circuit clerk, it is safe to say that he will exercise the same care and diligence that have always marked his career, and that he will try as hard as ever to meet every just demand of the public. That he is amply qualified for the place, goes without saying.

Mr. James will no doubt seek every opportunity possible between now and the primaries to interview the voters of the County.

KEMP MATTINGLY ASKS A REELECTION

The Sentinel has been commissioned by Mr. Kemp Mattingly to formally place his candidacy before the electorate of district 1, as a candidate for reelection to the office of supervisor, a place to which he was chosen upon the death of Mr. L. B. Yeager a few months after the latter was inducted into office.

In The Sentinel of last week there appeared a card signed by about 140 voters asking Mr. Mattingly to submit his name for another term. Usually the fact that one is called in these days of strenuous politics to enter a race for any office is regarded as no ordinary compliment.

Mr. Mattingly has a card in this issue of The Sentinel in which he submits some figures as to the County's finances and in which he discusses some of the policies of the board of supervisors that show up most gratifyingly for Mr. Mattingly, and that should be reassuring to the general public. Whether true or not there are a very great many who have regarded Mr. Mattingly as wielding a predominating influence on the Board, and this of itself is no ordinary tribute to his ability and speaks well for the confidence his fellow members repose in his judgment.

Mr. Mattingly has taken a keen interest in road building. He has worked in perfect harmony with those who have given a great deal of thought to road construction. He has given his personal attention to every line of proposed road; he has repeatedly visited the State Highway Department at Jackson to get the aid and the cooperation of that department in road work in Grenada County, and to him is generally credited the getting of the Highway Department to take over road working on the Jefferson Davis Highway as well as the line already agreed on running east and west through the County, a matter which means a very considerable saving to the taxpayers of Grenada County, for the matter of the upkeep of roads is one of the biggest items of expense in maintaining good highways.

This in brief is what is regarded as Mr. Mattingly's record as supervisor of district 1. Certainly it will be conceded that he is better prepared in every way for faithful and satisfactory service than when he first entered upon the duties of the office.

Kemp Mattingly is not a man of latent ideas or of latent energies. To his credit, it may be said that he will get on one side of the other of a proposition, and it is a tribute to any man to say of him that he has well matured ideas and convictions that he is willing to assert under all reasonable circumstances.

Mr. Mattingly is obliging to his friends; he is by nature accomodating. The Sentinel feels sure that the voters of district 1 will give his candidacy due consideration.

HEADQUARTERS W. R. BARKS DALE CAMP, U. C. V., Grenada, Mississippi.

Since our last meeting the Great Reaper has claimed another worthy member of our Camp—Judge A. T. Roane.

In the death of Judge Roane this Camp has sustained an irreparable loss. Judge Roane in many respects was a remarkable man. He was an upstanding man and never compromised with any kind of sham. He had the courage of his convictions and the full determination to carry them out. He was a brave soldier in the Civil War, having been once severely wounded in battle. He was a strong advocate of Temperance and Prohibition. He was always foursquare against any kind of lawlessness. He was a model, upright citizen, a kind husband, and revered father. He never missed a meeting of our Camp in its twenty seven years of existence. He was the Chairman of the Necrological Committee of our Camp, and wrote and read before our Camp every Resolution of condolence and respect for every member of our Camp who predeceased him to the Great Camp above.

Therefore, we, the members of W. R. Barksdale Camp, U. C. V., shall deplore his death and we shall miss him from all our future meetings until there will be none of us left to hold a meeting; and do hereby tender to his wife and children our sincere condolence and sympathy, and pray that they and we shall meet him and greet him on the other side of "The River" nevermore to part.

Attest:-

J. W. YOUNG,
Commander and Acting Adjutant.

A Twice-Told Tale

One of Interest to Our Readers

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Grenada woman is confirmed after three years.

Mrs. E. T. Sweeney, 18 College Ave., says: "I was weak, nervous and run down generally and I suffered from backache. Being on my feet all day while doing my housework, I blame for the trouble. At times I would get dizzy and when making the beds, as I would raise up, I could see all kinds of stars before me. My kidneys acted irregularly, at times. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being good so I purchased a box, at Fatherree's Drug Store. After I had used them for a few days I was all right. I continued taking Doan's until I was well and I am glad to recommend them." (Statement given June 13, 1918).

On April 13, 1922, Mrs. Sweeney added: Since using and recommending Doan's Kidney Pills in 1918 I am sure my cure has been a lasting one and I haven't had to use them since."

COAST COUNTY SHERIFF OUT FOR TREASURER

H. D. Cudabac of Pascagoula Seeks State Treasurer's Job at Hands of Electors

Pascagoula, Miss., March 19.—H. D. Cudabac, of Pascagoula, sheriff of Jackson County, is the first Gulf Coast citizen to seek a state office in eight years, and if elected will be the first man from that section to be honored by the electors of the State since M. M. Evans served as lieutenant governor from 1890 to 1896.

Mr. Cudabac was elected sheriff of Jackson County without opposition in 1919, and has made a zealous official. He is from an old and prominent family of Moss Point, Miss., which has been closely identified with religious, civil and fraternal life of South Mississippi. His wife was Miss Eleanor Thompson of Forest county, who is a cousin of the former Lieutenant Governor, J. P. Carter of Hattiesburg.

HARRISON TO INTRODUCE OWSLEY

Jackson, Miss.—United States Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, will introduce Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, when the Legion chieftain is presented to the public at the speaking here April 4, it was announced by John B. Hudson state adjutant of the Legion. Mayor W. A. Scott, of Jackson, has issued a proclamation declaring April 4 "American Legion Day."

When Commander Owsley arrives in Jackson, the "prettiest girl" in the city will, on behalf of the mayor and citizens of Jackson, present to him a gold key. The Henry H. Graves post of Jackson is conducting a "beauty contest" to determine who the prettiest girl is to be.

Marsch Hainer, of McComb, grandfather of Masons of Mississippi, and his grand lodge representatives will lay the corner stone at the City Auditorium on "American Legion Day." Mr. Owsley will dedicate the building to the memory of the World War veterans.

THE FARM LOAN SYSTEM

Is now in full operation, and wants to do business with farmers and to lend them money at a low rate of interest.

The Federal Land Bank is now prepared to make all legitimate loans on FARM LANDS. The bank lends 50% of the value of your land. It requires from two to four months to get a loan closed, therefore look forward and make your plans, and put in your application NOW. The rate of interest is 6 1-2 per cent, one per cent of this amount retires a part of the amount borrowed each year, and at the end of thirty-five years the interest and principal is paid up. WHY PAY MORE THAN 5 1-2 per cent interest. This is a safe and sane institution lending money at a low rate. Do you want to get the benefit of this low interest? For further particulars or information write me.

A FEW OF OUR MANY NEEDS

The country needs to have more people who are willing to turn aside from desk, from store, from farm and from office and realize the need of thinking.

It is a small job to think. The Lord did not give people a thinker without demanding that they think with their thinkers.

The country needs to have people to stop long enough to at least count ten and while counting the ten to also count the cost of many of the things that are being done in County, State and national affairs.

It is good to talk about what our fathers left us—and they left us far more we fear than we are going to leave our children—and it is good to remind people sometimes of what we have done, yet it is far more important to study ourselves and see what we are NOT doing.

Yes, there is a great drouth of thinking throughout the land. There is almost a Sahara Desert of thinking.

Ask almost any average citizen what he thinks about any serious public question, locally or state-wide, and in the majority of cases you will find that his thinker has not formed a concrete idea or opinion about it.

Almost everybody reads about the murder stories, the scandals, wife desertions, the elopements of one man's wife with the husband of another woman, but what the Sunday School lesson was last Sunday or what it is to be next Sunday, what are the important questions to be presented the citizens for determination this year and the growth and development or the lack of growth and development of our State—about these things their information is exceedingly penurious.

Nature almost exhausted herself in bestowing her richest gifts upon our State. It is the easiest place to earn an honest livelihood that can be found.

The aroma of the sweetest perfume pervades the land. We are strong on proclaiming ideals but lamentably, negligent in putting into play those talents and those energies that will continue our ideals in the lives and the character of our children.

Our people are too splendid in goodness of heart not to be more aggressive in crystallizing purpose.

We have too much unused capital that Nature has laid at our very doors not to be more diligent in trying to use it. The man who has several thousand dollars in a bank or in his pocket and lives like a miser, had almost as well be a beggar so far as he is an asset to his community.

We need to wake up in Mississippi to what we can do, and do it. We need to wake up in Mississippi to the fact that we need outside help to work our resources.

We need, among other things, to hang out a sign, "more people and more capital".

We repeat that the strongest indictment against the people of the present day is their failure to think beyond their own selves.

Some authority has estimated that scarcely more than 15 per cent of the American people are thinking for themselves at the present time. Surely it has not always been so? The man who refuses to read what he has opportunity to read so that he may know about things himself, should read the lesson of the man who hid his talent in a napkin.

PLAIN COMMON SENSE

The people of Mississippi have recently partially awakened to a fact that has been known by many for some time; that the State was spending several million dollars more each year than the revenues collected from all sources.

In other words, that the income was several millions per year less than the outgo. Such a condition exists that would not be allowed for a moment by business men in the handling of their private enterprises.

The continuation of such a system will eventually, and that before a great while, pile up bonds and multiply taxes to such an extent that it will mean confiscation of property and bankruptcy for our great old Commonwealth.

The correction of this condition is possible by the incoming administration, consisting of the legislative and executive departments of state government, and it would be well for the voters to secure an expression from candidates before casting their ballots.

Immediately upon the convening of the new legislative body, let the Governor call several important committees together, say the appropriation, ways and means and finance, and state to them that he would sign no appropriation bill until the ways and means measures to supply funds had become a law.

Clear the calendar of all appropriation, and ways and means bills before other legislation was even introduced. Carefully pare appropriation bills and increase tax measures until a balance is struck and the state placed upon a sane business footing.

Such a course would require considerable nerve and not altogether on the part of the Governor either. The storm that would be raised by those only interested in appropriations and caring nothing about where the funds were to come from would be a dandy, but it is likely that the people in general, particularly business people, would unanimously approve.

Of course the legislative bodies could pass even appropriation bills over the veto of the Governor if they saw fit, but would they? Is it not a likelihood that such action would receive such hearty disapproval from the tax payers that those responsible would not care to take chances?

Action of this kind might be termed by the more timid as somewhat revolutionary, but it appears that existing conditions warrant drastic action to bring about a correction. To continue as at present means ruin.

The above is from the pen of our friend, H. E. Blakeslee, of Gulfport, in his "Dixie Press". It is mighty good common sense. It is "old fashion" doctrine.

THE ABUSE OF "PROGRESS"

"Sin always wants to get away from God. Yet sin does not often like to call itself sin, or opposition to God; it prefers to speak of itself as something that makes for a forward, upward movement and improvement. So sin often calls itself 'progressive.' The first temptation to sin that was ever brought to mankind urged the woman to be 'progressive.' Satan urged Eve to 'progress' beyond the limitations by which she was restricted, as to one of the trees in the garden, and promised her that if she did this she would move forward, her eyes would be opened, and she would 'be as God.' That is certainly an appeal to 'progress.' At the recent Victorious Life Conference in Philadelphia, Mr. Archie Dyer of Japan, speaking on 'The Church's Need of the Gospel,' said: 'I find that this thing called the Modern Mind has always existed, and is as old as humanity itself.' 'Modernism' likes to call itself modern in order to conceal its antiquity. The religious teachings and appeals of 'the modern mind' are simply repetition of the appeal that Satan made Eve in the garden of Eden, to rebel against God. And this does not mean progress; it means death."—Sunday School Times.

Many things are used as a smoke screen, but there is hardly anything or any term worse abused the present day than that of "progress." Many political crimes are being committed in the name of "progress". Many social evils have been started and allowed to become festering sores because, forsooth, it was said that "progress" demanded them or endorsed them. Today many towns, many counties and districts are mortgaging their property for bonds to do "progressive" things. And it seems that some "progressives" have invaded the sacred domain which involves man's relations to his God and God's dealings with men, and there are some seeking to unteach some important things that have served as a shield and as a lamp to the world for the ages.

GROVER CLEVELAND'S BIRTHDAY

Last Sunday, March 18, was Grover Cleveland's birthday. He was born at Caldwell, N. J., in 1837. He was the son of a Presbyterian minister. When he was first sworn in to office as President, he presented the Chief Justice a little worn Bible, his widowed mother gave him when he first left home, to be used in that solemn service.

Cleveland was one of the country's great men. As the years roll by, his fight against extravagance and machine politicians as Mayor of Buffalo, then as Governor of New York, to which place he was elected by a majority of 192,000, and later as President will grow in daring and brilliancy. It takes a daring man to go up against the "machine" in politics, the "machine" which is tapping the public treasury and handing out the taxpayers' money to its favorite.

Cleveland made many almost immortal statements, among them, "public office is a public trust" and "one should not prostitute public office for private gain."

He rewrote the Monroe doctrine when he wrote his celebrated message on the Venezuelan question. He was not swayed by the populace on the money question. He vetoed more bills than all other Presidents before and since together. 'Tis a pity we have not more veto men in executive office today.

ONE OF RUSSELL'S MANY LITTLE THINGS

Gov. Russell's vetoing the item in the legislative appropriation bill providing for the payment of the salary of the Supreme Court Reporter, an office of long standing and one created by law, is one of the smallest and meanest of the many little things that Lee Russell has done. This was just another abuse of official position to punish one that does not subscribe to Russell's standard of politics.

Judge Powell, the Reporter, has continued to discharge the duties of the office depending upon the fair-mindedness and justice of the people of Mississippi to have their next law-making body right a wrong. Nevertheless, Judge Powell and his young lady secretary will have to do without their salary for two years, or are having to do so.

The veto in the face of Russell's allowing or approving other things that the law and the Constitution forbid, but adds to the gravity of the offense.

As heretofore pointed out, the next legislature should abolish the office of Supreme Court Reporter and impose the duties now discharged by that official on the Supreme Court, or make an arrangement with the Southern Reporter Co. to do the work.

But in the meantime, the laborer is worthy of his hire, and no honest man can object to paying for services honestly rendered in a place provided for by law.

TO W. B. HOFFA AND OTHERS

of the county's business this year. I am not making any excuses for anything that I have done. I know that I have made mistakes and if I am elected, I expect to make more mistakes; (but not the same twice), and I believe that I am better qualified to serve you than I have ever been, and there is no reason in the world why our tax levy should not be cut considerably this year. I want to say further that I do not believe that you have a private business that can show any better record than this board has made.

Again thanking you and assuring you of my appreciation of your endorsement, I beg to remain

Yours very truly,

K. MATTINGLY.

The 3 foolish men and the sophisticated maiden

—a chapter from the book of wisdom

They were four young men and the maid was fair.
The first knight brought chocolate creams, which, alas, she had never liked.

The second, nothing daunted, approached with chocolate covered cherries, which she simply abhorred!

The third, with courage deserving of happier fate, pinned his faith to caramels, and went his way sorrowing.

But the fourth was supremely wise in his generation.
He trod the dangerous path armed only with Johnston's Choice Box—an assortment of two-and-twenty delicious chocolates—and these, his words, were sweeter than honey to the wayward maid: "Now you choose the kinds you like best for the next time."

To a tale of valor so richly tempered with discretion there could be but one ending.

NOTE

In the Johnston Choice box, the name of each piece is printed on a card exactly under each piece. When she picks out one she seems to like best, note the name. Then look in the Choice Book (it comes with each box), get the name of the Johnston box made up of that piece. Eh Bien!

ONE MONTH'S A. &amp; M. COLLEGE PAYROLL

(Continued from page 1) work. And what applies to the A. & M. College can be said with equal truthfulness as to the University and as to the Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus.

The public is reminded that, besides the expenditures shown on this pay roll, there have been perhaps a million dollars, or somewhere in that neighborhood, spent at the College by the State during the last four years in new buildings and equipment. So when what the State has already invested there is considered and what it is costing today, it does seem that education is coming too high for the average citizen. Let a boy stint himself as best he may, and he can hardly get through a year at the A. & M. College for less than about $400. A very great many are paying a great deal more than four hundred dollars each for a year's stay of 9 months at the College. The 2,000 or more acres of land and the total equipment has cost the taxpayers well-nigh $3,000,000.

The funds out of which County Farm Demonstrators are paid is "Special Federal, Proj. 2."

How many on the pay roll are engaged in teaching base ball, football and other athletics, is not disclosed.

The total amount of the monthly pay roll, both out of Federal and out of State funds, is $44,621.69. On this basis the total for the year will be $535,460.28.

The public is entitled to know about the payrolls of any or all of the colleges of the State.

The Sentinel is of the opinion that this is the first time, certainly for a number of years, that any newspaper in the State has undertaken to give its readers a college pay roll. It is interesting reading. The College authorities, unquestionably want to take the public into their very fullest confidence and should profit by everybody's being thoroughly acquainted with every possible detail.

The following is the monthly pay roll for February, 1923:

Getting more people to move into the County

— SO THAT —

We may have more people to support our
S C H O O L S

More people to support our
CHURCHES

More people to improve our
FARMS

More people to patronize our merchants and our Banks and to aid us in paying our taxes and in other ways.

We have in mind something that we believe will be worth something to Grenada, to Grenada County.
Think the matter over. Maybe we shall want to talk to you about it.
